

What streams are made of.

Join the world of premium streaming with Shubi.

Level up your content delivery with Shubi; a multi-platform tool that helps us build apps incorporating top-tier features from leading streaming apps. It's a white-label streaming solution designed for flexibility and innovation—making premium experiences more accessible and affordable than ever. Own your own custom platform, built with industry-leading best practices but with a lower cost and faster speed to market.

Reduce your time to market.

Cuts weeks, or months, off your launch. Shubi skips the usual rebuild headaches, includes ad insertion from day one, and scales to new platforms without slowing you down. Whether you're starting fresh, rebuilding, or moving into new markets, we'll get you there quickly and on budget.

Own your code.

Shubi isn't a rented service—you own 100% of your product: your code, your roadmap, and your business model. With no lock-in or limits, you gain a modern foundation that lowers costs, reduces ongoing maintenance, and keeps your app flexible for the future.

Give your content the home it deserves.

Responsible multiplatform

Shubi delivers smooth, native performance across Apple, Android, and connected TVs using only the right number of codebases.

That means fast, intuitive apps with accessibility and localization built in; without the compromises of heavy cross-platform builds. Plus, you only pay for the platforms that matter most to your audience.

The world is watching. Shubi helps you deliver premium streaming experiences faster, smarter, and with complete control, turning views into lasting value. It's the smarter way to launch, modernize, and grow streaming products across every device.

Built on REDspace's 25+ years of experience delivering platforms for the biggest brands in media and entertainment, Shubi gives you the flexibility, speed, and control to deliver premium experiences without compromise. That same expertise is built into Shubi's customizable toolkit; helping you deliver streaming products that perform like the best in the industry, while still feeling uniquely you.
